Key: Stock price fluctuations are a natural part of investing. That being said they can be unsettling to investors. Our experience has shown that focusing on a company's dividend is an effective way to maintain investor confidence. Investors that recognize the real value of the businesses they own see volatility as a potential opportunity to acquire a larger stake at even more advantageous prices.

DISCLAIMER

Information about specific issuers of securities has been made available by Value Partners Investments Inc. (Value Partners) for the sole purpose of providing additional background information on the holdings in the Value Partners Pools (the Pools) and is not intended to be investment advice about the merits of investing directly in these issuers.

The complete holdings of the Pool are disclosed in its Statement of Investment Portfolio semi-annually. On a quarterly basis, the Pools disclose the top 25 holdings in the Summary of Investment Portfolio. Both these documents are available on our website at www.valuepartnersinvestments.ca.

The information provided does not constitute individual, legal, investment, or tax advice about the Pool or the issuers discussed therein. Please consult your own legal, investment, and/or tax advisor prior to making a decision to invest in the Pools. Commissions, trailing commissions, management fees, and expenses all may be associated with mutual fund investments. Please read the fund facts document and the prospectus before investing. Mutual funds are not guaranteed, their values change frequently and past performance may not be repeated.
